

ARTISTS

Increasing and expanding the sacred, art allows one to migrate to a new form of consciousness . Painting is the profound translation of the spirit.

An artist's psyche is God's progressive composition. It is the word of God that drives artists to interpret and illustrate the world's synchronized patterns. God creates a shift in the artist's consciousness so they can comprehend the essence of His designs.

Artists are the interpreters of the infinite, collecting and dividing the subject matter of consciousness. They illustrate their findings through their manifestations. For artists to sow they must embrace the instinctual. Artists are teachers of unity; they construct a habitat within our consciousness.

We are all heirs to the artists psyche. Artists , through their work, bring us to the point of self- realization. They present examples of the unknown and illustrate that they are customarily a part of us. Artists promote the visual boundaries of revelation. The energy that artists manifest and donate leads to the inherent notion of God's consciousness. Artists also instruct mans spirit. God's creative disposition abides within all artists and their works; a remnant of His own creation.

THE SPIRIT

Art coordinates the spirit, allowing man to clearly absorb himself.

The sacred containment of art holds the fullness of the spirit.

Its adherent nature compels man to seek greater communication with something greater than himself. This self fulfilling mutation of reasoning resides to increase itself and to associate spirit with spirit.
